JUBILATE DEO
(Psalm 100)

O be joyful in the Lord, all ye lands:
serve the Lord with gladness, and come before his presence with a song.

Be ye sure the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture.

O go your way into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and speak good of his Name.

For the Lord is gracious, his mercy is everlasting: and his truth endureth
from generation to generation.

INTRODUCTION

Whilst visiting Kiltubrid Churchyard to record and photograph the gravestone of an ancestor, I noticed that there were relatively few memorials. As the church is relatively isolated and only used for Divine Worship once a year, I decided to record all legible inscriptions at the same time; this transcript is the result.

The following specific points should be borne in mind when using the transcript:

Inscriptions Inscriptions have been transcribed (less epitaths) as they appear on the gravestones. Information in {} brackets has been altered from the original text by the compiler eg all euphemisms for death are replaced by {died}. All proper names are in BLOCK CAPITALS. Punctuation has been reduced to a minimum.

Dates All dates have been standardised as follows; day in numbers, month in three letters (abbreviated as necessary), year.

Index The index lists in alphabetical order (with dates of birth and death where given) all names that appear on gravestones in Kiltubrid Churchyard. Persons referred to but not buried are included and identified by 'Ref'.

BRIEF HISTORY OF THE PARISH AND CHURCH

Kiltubrid is an ancient parish in Co Leitrim. The church, dedicated to St Brigid, was built about 1788, £406 of the cost gifted by the Board of First Fruits. The glebe house was built about 1815 at a cost of £1114, of which £230 was gifted by the Board of First Fruits. A report of 1836 stated that evening service was held "at some hamlet in the parish as many of the parishioners are living at a distance". The parish was joined to Drumshambo in 1930. The church was closed before the arrival of the present incumbent, but has been reopened and an annual Harvest Festival service is held in September. The old rectory is now a farmhouse.
