

Editors of The Church of Ireland Gazette (formerly The Irish Ecclesiastical Gazette to 1900)

For its first nine years, the Gazette was published and printed by Mr James Charles in Dublin, but there was no editor as such. From 1871 the succession of editors was as follows:

1871-1893 Revd James Anderson Carr, vicar of Whitechurch (Dublin) 1871-1900 and later canon of Christ Church cathedral (Dublin) from 1895;

1893-1897 Canon Courtenay Moore, rector of Brigown (Cloyne) 1882-1897, and canon of Cloyne cathedral from 1882;

1897-1905 Canon Charles Irvine Graham, rector of Celbridge 1891-1911, and canon of Church Church cathedral Dublin from 1901;

c. 1906-1918 Warre B. Wells, was later editor of the Irish Statesman (a weekly journal promoting the views of the Irish Dominion League) and published biography of John Redmond, and History of the Irish Rebellion, 1916.

1919-24 Revd George Ashton Chamberlain, rector Clondalkin and select preacher in Trinity College (Dublin) 1917-24 and canon of Christ Church cathedral Dublin from 1932;

1924-30 Canon Hugh W. B. Thompson, rector of St Catherine's (Dublin) and canon of Christ Church cathedral 1924-30. Died suddenly in 1930, leaving editorship vacant or shared for four years;

1930-34 temporary editors – unknown;

1934-54 Canon Ernest William Greening, rector of Carysfort (Dublin) 1933-43 and canon of Christ Church cathedral Dublin 1951-57;

1955-59 Norman Clark [lay man?]

1959-75 Canon Frederick Andrew Graves (Andy) Willis, rector of Dunleckney, also canon of Leighlin cathedral from 1957, of St Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin from 1959, and subsequently archdeacon of Ossory. Shared editorship briefly 1963-66 (see below);

1963-66 Revd William Gilbert Wilson, rector of Armoy (Connor 1947-76), later canon of Connor and subsequently bishop of Kilmore, Elphin and Ardagh (1981-93), co-edited for a brief period with Canon Willis;

1975-1982 Revd Robert Samuel James Houston McKelvey, curate in charge and later rector of Kilmakee (Connor) 1970-81, and subsequently dean of Belfast;

1982-2001 Canon Cecil William Marcus Cooper, rector of Drumbeg (Down), 1982-2000, canon of Down cathedral 1986-90, precentor 1990-91 and chancellor 1991-2000;

2001 to date Canon Ian Morton Ellis, rector of Newcastle (Dromore) 1993 to date, canon of St Patrick's cathedral Dublin from 2001.